Take Me to Forever

When I saw you from across the crowded room,
Attraction unfolded, like a flower in bloom,
I thought you might be my one and only,
Meant to keep me from forever being lonely.
But I still had to grow up and learn more about me,
While you were just becoming the man that you would be.

Even though we can't be together,
Just love me and take me to forever,
With you.

Even though we can't be together,
Just love me and take me to forever,
With you.

Although we only spent months together,
Falling in love and even talking about forever.
You became my one and only,
The one who kept me from forever being lonely.
But I still had to grow up and discover all about me,
And I was just learning 'bout the woman I'm meant to be.

Even though we can't be together,
Just love me and take me to forever,
With you.

Even though we can't be together,
Just love me and take me to forever,
With you.

Like a flash, the future changed, and you had to leave,
You vanished, and all my heart could do was grieve,
You were never meant to be my one and only,
Never meant to keep me from forever being lonely.
I had to grow up, experience life—both loss and happiness,
Yet the struggle was worth it because your love proved to be endless.

Though we'll never be together,
Still love me and take me to forever,
With you.

Though we'll never be together,
Still love me and take me to forever,
With you.

Take me to forever with you.
